

Cycle of Freshness

COMPANY PROFILE

The company was set up in 1969 to export fruit from Italy to northern Europe and to organize transport. In 1987 the company also started to concentrate on import of overseas products throughout the Mediterranean area (Europe/Africa/Middle East) and for organizing imports/exports.

CORE BUSINESS

- Export of fruit and vegetables, mainly sourced from growers and supplied directly to the warehouses of retailers. The products are coming from growers who have a long term relationship with UNIVEG Trade Italy. All growers are GLOBALGAP certified.
- Participation in production plans (fruit and vegetables).
- Transport planning and organisation for other companies in the Group throughout Europe. Transport services offered for various needs including cross-docking solutions with strategic partners.
- As of 2008, cross docking with other Group members is offered from a new warehouse near Verona, for optimizing logistic solutions and transport service as well as offering packing facilities. The location is certified according to standard systems and offers a temperature-controlled storage of fresh fruit and vegetables.

- As of 2011 packing activity in the warehouse near Verona of Italian and Argentinean pears, Italian apples and kiwis, both for export and local sales.

CORE BUSINESS REGARDING IMPORT

- Import of various agricultural products sold in Italy, Eastern Europe and other countries in the Mediterranean region.
- Import of South American products for UNIVEG's South European customer base, available through UNIVEG Expofrut's production in Argentina or through contracted production of its partners.
- Export of Italian products to UNIVEG's worldwide customer base.
